

How did they live?

What do you think the home is made of?

What do you see in the field around the home?

What do you see in the tree?

Is this home built in the wilderness near a new town or is it built in a long-settled town? Why do you think that?